Each week, we will be walking you through the process of constructing a lineup to dominate your cash games. The lineups we discuss below were created using our Lineup Generator, which finds the optimal lineups for you using either the median projected points, floor, or ceiling. (Since this is a cash game walkthrough, we will be looking at the floor and median projections only, not the ceilings.) By limiting the pool of players to those you trust each week, the lineup generator will help you find a winning lineup that will leave you feeling confident on Sunday.
